GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 86. GREENSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1900. Price Five Cents

ARE KITCHIN'S FIGURES RIGHT?

MR. JOYCE SAYS THAT HIS ADVICES ARE QUITE CONTRARY.

Thinks That Kitchin's Figures are Wrong and is Trying to Find Out if He is Elected—Will Not Admit That He Contemplates a Contest, but Says He has Heard of Frauds.

Mr. J. R. Joyce, of Reidsville, late Republican candidate for Congress in this distsict, is in Greensboro today, conferring with Republican associates. He does not concede Mr. Kitchin's election yet. Mr. Kitchin claims a majority of from 1,000 to 1,500 in the district, as follows: Granville 696; Durham 477; Person 278; Rockingham 550; Orange 50; Guilford 268.

Mr. Joyce said that when these claims were made they were only estimates and not the true figures at all, and his advices are quite different. He says he has carried Stokes, Alamance, Person and Caswell, with a close pull in Orange. He has been informed, he says, of frauds in two or three counties. These counties are, the Republicans say, Granville, Person, Orange and Caswell.

Mr. Joyce would not admit that he contemplated a contest. He said that he was up here to investigate the returns and see if he was elected.

There is little doubt, however, that if there is any chance whatever for making a show, a contest will be brought. In fact, it is pretty certain that work towards that end is already on foot.

CANVASSING BOARD MEETS.

Incomplete Work Owing to the Absence of Two Messengers—These Two Arrested.

The county canvassing board, composed of one member from each precinct in the county, met in the court house this morning. They canvassed the returns but incompletely, as those from South Gilmer and Centre Grove had not been sent in. The law requires that the election judges appoint one of their numbers to bring the returns in on the second day following the election, and these messengers constitute the Board. Subpoenas were issued for the two absent ones and put in the sheriff's hands, while the Board took a recess till half past three to see if they were present by that time. They were not, and the Board adjourned till tomorrow.

SALE OF JERSEYS.

A Fine Herd Disposed of But Prices Were Extremely Low.

A herd of some fifty Jersey cattle from Oconeechee Farm were sold at auction here today. The sale took place at Vanstory's stables and the auctioneering was done by Col. D. D. Perry, an experienced auctioneer. Prices ranged very low, being little above those obtained for ordinary stock. Every animal was thoroughbred and registered. Those in the city who made purchases were, Col. W. H. Osborne, Dr. L. W. Crawford, J. D. Callum, T. M. Arrasmith, W. G. Balsley, J. H. Sharp, R. G. Thomas, and W. T. Bain.

Theatre.

"A Pair of Tramps" last night played to a corporal's guard. The run of tramp shows has about reached the frazzled edge in Greensboro, and a change of diet will be wholesome.

The Una Clayton Company, which opens a three night's engagement Monday night with "Darkest Russia," brings with it the warm commendation of the Southern press. The press notices where the company has been this season warrants the prediction that the company is about the cleverest that has come our way this season.

Meetings.

Dr. L. W. Crawford last night closed the meeting at Spring Garden Chapel. Ten adult members were received into the church last night, and a few others will join later.

Rev. Mr. Halcomb, the eloquent young preacher who has been at work in the above-mentioned meeting, is now holding a meeting at Proximity, in the church of Rev. V. L. Marsh.

GENERAL CARR'S GOOD HUMOR.

Sends a Letter to the Democrats of North Carolina and One to Mr. Simmons, Which the Latter Acknowledges.

General Julian S. Carr yesterday afternoon issued the following letter:

To the Democrats of North Carolina:

You have at the ballot box expressed your choice for United States Senator. Your will is my pleasure. I assure you my devotion to the welfare of North Carolina is unabated, and my loyalty to the great Democratic party unshaken. My defeat leaves no bitterness. In the future, as in the past, I will be found fighting the battle of Democracy. I am deeply grateful to my many friends throughout the State who have stood so loyally by me. Surely it is the privilege of few to be honored by the support and confidence of so many good and true men. I shall never forget their loyalty, and may heaven's richest blessings abide with them.

May the great Democratic party long triumph as the champion of the people's rights, and the salvation of the State I love. I remain in bonds of Democratic faith and principles.

Your obedient servant,

J. S. CARR.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 7, 1900.

The following telegram was yesterday afternoon received by Senator-elect Simmons from General Julian S. Carr:

"Durham, N. C , Nov. 7, 1900.

"Hon. F. M. Simmons, Raleigh, N. C.

"Accept my heartiest congratulations. In all your efforts to promote the welfare of North Carolina and the Democratic party, I pledge my loyal support. "J. S. CARR."

Mr. Simmons acknowledged the receipt of General Carr's telegram as follows:

"Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7, 1900.

"Gen. J. S. Carr, Durham, N. C.

"Accept my thanks for your wire of congratulation. It is my earnest desire that any dissensions in our party may be speedily healed. I trust that the spirit of your telegram may meet a universal response from our party friends and that we may all work together for the success of Democracy and the welfare of the State. Surely nothing shall be left undone on my part to accomplish this much to be desired result. "F. M SIMMONS."

HANNA DON'T WANT IT.

He Will Not Accept the Presidency at the Expiration of Mr. McKinley's Term.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—Speaker Henderson, of the national House of Representatives, was entertained at dinner at the Union Club by about twenty prominent Republicans of Cleveland on the evening of October 31, when he delivered a campaign speech in this city. He greatly surprised some of his hosts during the table talk by telling them that Senator Hanna's campaign tour of the Northwest had so stirred up that section of the country that the Senator was talked about there as a presidential possibility, four years hence. Senator Hanna was asked today whether he had heard of any such sentiment in the North west.

"Yes," he answered, "I have heard rumors to that effect. At some of the meetings I addressed in the Northwest cries were raised about the next presidency, which I could not help hearing. There has been some talk of the character you mention, but I don't want to be the next President after Mr. McKinley. I won't have anything to do with it. I have had enough of politics and public life to suit any one."

Senator Hanna starts tomorrow night for New York to dispose of unfinished campaign business. He will return home on Monday and remain until December 1, when he will go to Washington for the rest of the winter and the session of Congress.

Senator Hanna today received about 300 telegrams of congratulation upon the election from prominent men in all parts of the country.

To Speak at Educational Rallies.

Prof. P. P. Claxton, of the State Normal and Industrial College, went to Bertie county on the early morning train. He speaks in an educational rally at Windsor tonight, and at Colerain tomorrow.

Mr. P. H. Williamson, of Reidsville, spent the day in the city attending the Oconeechee stock sale.

NEBRASKA IS STILL IN DOUBT

TWO UNITED STATES SENATORSHIPS ARE THE STAKES.

Fusionists Claim the Legislature, but the Republicans, With Fuller Figures, Claim That They Will Have Five to Seven Majority on Joint Ballot—Returns From Forty-Eight Counties Indicate a McKinley Victory.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—The Fusion State committee were inclined this morning to concede Nebraska to McKinley by a small plurality. The Republican committee has figures for forty-eight counties out of ninety and says McKinley will have five to seven thousand majority. Both sides claim the State ticket. The greatest interest centres in the Legislature. Chairman Edmiston of the Populist committee says the Fusionists will control it beyond a doubt, but the Republicans with figures more complete, insist that they will have five to seven majority on joint ballot. It is very close. Two United States Senatorships are the prizes. The Congressional delegation stands three Republicans, one Democrat, one populist, one doubtful, with chances for the Fusionist.

REPUBLICAN MANAGERS CLAIMS IT.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Republican managers in Nebraska telegraph that McKinley has 5,000 plurality and that both houses are Republican.

ELECTIONS IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

A Tussel Over the Question of Governmental Control of Railroads.

Special to The Telegram.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 8.—The general elections of Newfoundland are progressing today. Mr. Bond, the premier, and Mr. Reid, the owner of a very large part of the colony, have locked arms, and a bitter fight is going on, the contest being keen and close. Mr. Morine, representing Mr. Reid, and leading the opposition, maintains the integrity of the Reid contract as binding on the colony, while Premier Bond proposes to modify it by reclaiming the fee-simple of railway for the colony, and by handing back the telegraph lines to the government. Both the railroads and the telegraph were taken by Mr. Reid to work after the government had sunk money on them. He secured compensation in large tracts of land, which made him king over a large portion of the island. The Premier also demands guarantees that the proper portion of moneys raised on mortgage shall be spent on development work in the colony.

CONFEDERATION OF WOMAN'S CLUB.

Began Two Days Session Today by Two-Minute Reports from Clubs.

Special to The Telegram.

Ansonia, Conn., Nov. 8.—The Connecticut Federation of the Woman's Club of America began its two days' session here today. A very interesting feature of today's session was the two-minute reports from the clubs. Tea will be served late in the afternoon, and tonight Miss Bradford, head worker of Whittier Home, Jersey City will give the principal address upon "The Value of Settlements to Social Reform." Miss Florence Kelley, the well known secretary of the Consumer's League will also speak. Many of the most prominent women of the State are present. Tomorrow, Miss Wilkinson, secretary of the National League of Women Workers, will tell of her society, with which the club women are in hearty sympathy.

KILLED THE LIMIT.

Members of the Gun Club Had Fine Sport at Smithfield Yesterday.

Yesterday at Smithfield, Mr. Wm. Johnson, President of the Johnson Steamship Line, of Liverpool, and Sheriff J. F. Jordan shot together, and Messrs. Chas. D. Fisher and Henry Penniman, of Baltimore, paired. Each couple killed fifty birds, which is the limit the club allows in one day.

The club is composed of Messrs. Johnson, Jordan, Fisher and Spencer, Mr. Penniman being a guest of the club.

Mr. Jordan came home last night, while Mr. Samuel Spencer, who was not present yesterday, went out today.

A TRIUMPHAL JOURNEY.

Mr. McKinley Cheered by Thousands on His Way to Washington—The President Calls Republican Success "A Victory for All Parties."

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—President McKinley's trip from Canton toward the national capital today has been one continuous ovation to the twice-elected head of the nation. At every stop there have been great out-pourings of the people, business has been suspended, and many factories along the line have added their thousands of workers—men and women—to those who have joined in enthusiastic greetings. The President has appeared at each stop, shaking hands from the rear platform, and making short speeches at the most important towns. Mrs. McKinley has received her share of the popular tribute, men and women struggling to present her with flowers. Patriotism, the flag and the volunteers' uniform, have figured everywhere, and the trip has been in the nature of a triumphal journey to the capital.

The President made his first speech of the day when the train arrived at Alliance. The town had turned out en masse to meet him with bands and banners. When the President appeared there were deafening cheers, to which he bowed and smiled acknowledgment and then said:

"My fellow-citizens: I have not failed to observe the verdict of Alliance, given yesterday (long-continued applause), and I cannot refrain from expressing to you in passing my very great appreciation of this vote of encouragement and support from my old friends and neighbors of Stark county. (Great applause.) I observe that majorities rise with prosperity (great applause) and that the American people never fail to support the flag (Applause.) I thank you and bid you good afternoon." (Tremendous applause and cheering.)

In the big factory town of Salem, a vast concourse of people lined the tracks. The President bowed his thanks and when order was partly secured, he said:

"My fellow-citizens: It has been many years since I had the privilege of meeting an audience in the city of Salem, and I assure you that your greeting and welcome today give me very sincere pleasure. You are here to celebrate the victory won, not by a single party, but by the people of all parties, (Great applause.) I go back to my public duties at the capital encouraged by your confidence, but deeply conscious of the great responsibilities which your action of yesterday imposes upon me. I can only ask of all my countrymen their sympathy and support in the solution of the great problems that rest upon the United States and I am sure that all of us will humbly petition the guidance of that Divine Ruler, who has never failed this government through all of its vicissitudes from its beginning to the present hour. I thank you and bid you good afternoon." (Tremendous applause and cheering.)

HANNA'S MESSAGE TO M'KINLEY.

Canton, Nov. 7.—Among the messages of congratulation received by the President was the following:

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—The continued confidence of the American people as expressed at the polls yesterday is a tribute to your personality and matchless administration. God bless and keep you for the patriotic purposes to which you have dedicated your life's work.

"M. A. HANNA."

MR. LOVE'S CONDITION UNKNOWN.

Ball Entered His Left Breast and Ranged Over to the Right Shoulder.

Nothing very definite has yet been received from Red Springs concerning the shooting of Mr. James Love, which occurred Tuesday. Mr. E. E. Bain received another message from there last night stating that the ball entered Mr. Love's left breast and had ranged over to his right shoulder. The person who did the shooting is a white man whose name is Bostic Haywood. He was arrested and lodged in jail, but the feeling ran so high that he was carried to the Lumberton jail for safe keeping.

It is feared Mr Love will die.

Rev. W. M. Curtis, of Walker own, was here a short while this morning, going to Kernersville this afternoon.

YESTERDAY'S COUNT STANDS.

M'KINLEY UNQUESTIONABLY HAS 292 ELECTORAL VOTES.

Nebraska Now in His Column and Idaho May go There—Kentucky for Bryan—Far Greater Majority Than Ever Before Given a Candidate.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Nov. 8.—With election returns from all the states, except Idaho, practically complete, there is no reason to change the figures of the electoral count as sent yesterday. Nebraska, in which state the contest was close, and which some were inclined to concede to the Democrats, in the early returns, has been placed in the Republican column, and Idaho in which the conditions are similar, may be found there also when the full vote has been counted. McKinley unquestionably has 292 votes in the electoral college, a number far greater than that ever given any other candidate for presidency. Kentucky undoubtedly gave its vote to Bryan, but the Republicans in the state continue firm in the belief that they have elected their candidate for governor.

LORD ROTHSCHILD'S BIRTHDAY.

The Head of the Family Which Controls the Gold of the Entire World.

Special to The Telegram.

London, Nov. 8.—Lord Rothschild reached his 59th birthday today, and is as comfortably off as a man need be. He was born the possessor of millions and has made millions. He is the head of a family that controls the gold of the entire globe. Lord Rathschiid is the present head of the London house of Rothschilds, and by virtue of place is the most prominent member of his celebrated family. He also enjoys the unique distinction of being the only Hebrew ever elevated to a peerage in Great Britain.

MRS. PERMELIA SMITH DEAD.

Mother of Five Living Generations Passes Peacefully Away in Summerfield.

Mrs. Permelia Smith, the aged mother of Mr. W. S. Moore, of this city, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jerry Highfield, in Summerfield. The remains were burried at Flat Rock church today.

Mrs. Smith was ninety-one years old and leaves several children to mourn her loss. She was the mother of five living generations. There is said to be only one other such family in the United States.

CHAFING DISH SUPPER.

Dr. Roberson Entertained a Few Friends in a Most Enjoyable Manner Last Night.

Dr. Chas. Roberson gave a most delightful chafing dish supper at his rooms in the National Bank building last night complimentary to Miss Mabel Hill and her guest, Miss Hattie Holcomb, of Danville, Va. Mrs. Ernest Holt chaperoned the party. Those present were Misses Hattie Holcomb, Danville, Va., Bessie Boyd, Reidsville, Mabel Hill and Mrs. Ernest Holt, and Messrs. W. T. Powe, George Boyd and Dr. Chas. Harrison.

LIVES IN A SANDY DESERT.

The Cactus Requires No Water to Sustain It in Verdant Splendor.

A recent writer has described the cactus as "the vegetable camel of the desert." This plant can not only go for months without water, but at the end of the period is capable of furnishing a cupful of refreshing fluid from its roots. Similarly the kurrajong and "supplejack" of the dry districts of Australia can remain alive without water for periods sometimes measured by years, and the former, even under such conditions, is said to sprout afresh although every branch is cut off. In the account of the voyage of Lord Macartney's embassy to China there is an interesting account of the plants which flourished through a drought of three years on one of the Cape Verde islands, at which the expedition called. Among those especially named as surviving are certain species of palms, including the borassus, the asclepias gigantea, the physic-nut tree, the sugar apple tree and certain kinds of mimosa. Cultivated plants, such as corn, sugar canes and plantains, are stated to have been totally destroyed during the same period

POPULISTS ARE REPUBLICANS.

PRACTICALLY ALL OF THEM EXULTING OVER BRYAN'S DEFEAT.

What of the Senatorial Primary—A Great Deal of Talk Concerning it—The Good Humor Which Has Been Discovered. The Absence of Grief is Remarkable. Chairman Simmons Puts Out the Word of What the Next Legislature Will Do Regarding the August Election.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Nov. 8.—The Supreme Court yesterday began with the call of appeals from the seventh district. The following attorneys were present: George M. Rose, N. A. Sinclair, Fayetteville; N. A. McLean, Lumberton; E. K. Bryan, Wilmington.

Mr. Charles M. Parks, of Hillsboro, at Tarboro this evening will marry Mrs. Kate Staton Blount. Mr Allen K. Ruffin, of Hillsboro, will be his best man.

The white Republicans Tuesday night "froze" out the negroes as to election returns. One of them today said he was sorry that they did not send out the returns and let the negroes see them. The negroes were cooling their heels on the sidewalk. They never got in.

Twenty convicts from the Caledonia farm and eight from the penitentiary were sent today to work on the Eastern Carolina railway, near Tarboro.

Wake county gave Simmons about 250 majority.

Judge Purnell has gone to Richmond to sit on the bench of the circuit court of appeals.

J. A. Giles, of Chatham, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, came in yesterday. He says Jenkins, Populist, carried Chatham by 300. Giles says his own majority over Pou there is from 300 to 500, while McKinley gets 800 majority. He says the Populists all voted for McKinley and that Barker and Donnelly, the middle-of-the-road ticket, didn't get 50 votes in the county. Chatham is a Populist stronghold. Your correspondent was hunting there last Thanksgiving day and was freely told by Populists that they proposed to vote for McKinley. Sampson county is another Populist stronghold. It too. went for McKinley, while four years ago it gave him 2,000, Chatham having given him 1,200. Practically every Populist in the State today is exulting over Bryan's "Waterloo."

Giles said Pou had of course swept the district by a good majority and that as a matter of fact he always expected Pou to beat him by 5,000 or 6,000. Chairman J. R. Young says Pou's majority is between 4,000 and 5,000.

There was quite a lot of talk in the evening hours about the third district. It was said by one editor that Thomas was at latest advices only 300 ahead of John E. Fowler, with some doubtful territory yet to be heard from. A. H. Slocumb threw cold water on Fowler after the latter had refused to withdraw in his favor, yet it seems a lot of the Republicans voted for Fowler, and their motto is, "anything to beat a Democrat." Finally the good news came that Thomas was elected.

An editor tells me that the second district gave Bryan 19,000 majority. Another editor told me that a leading editor had told him months ago that Bryan wouldn't be elected; that he didn't have the money.

One of the questions of the hour is, "will there be another senatorial primary?" It is said, "no, unless it is legalized." A gentleman who says he is in touch with the labor element told me today: "The laboring class favor a legalized primary." Per contra another gentleman said that if the primary scheme had been voted on last April by the full Democratic convention he very greatly doubted that it would have been adopted; that as a matter of fact it was adopted at the last hour and when there were perhaps not over fifty delegates in the hall. The primary just held was an expensive luxury to the gentlemen who took the leading parts in it. A politician terms it "a rich man's luxury."

Chairman Simmons was at his office early yesterday, but early as it was, there were friends outside to give him the glad hand and to congratulate him. A Goldsboro man gave him the biggest persimmon ever seen here, with the remark that he was an ever bigger 'Simmon. And by the way that homely badge, the persimmon, was a winner.

There is great good humor after the election. Kindly telegrams passed between Carr and Simmons. The "I told you so's" are extraordinarily numerous. One hears expressed publicly but little grief about Bryan's crushing defeat. So little is heard as to be a matter of comment. Democrats say there will be a new deal and a new head of the party four years hence.

A newspaper man figures that the Republicans will have 207 in the next House of Representatives.

What will the negroes do? They are in various moods, but mainly rather sullen toward or else indifferent to the white Republicans. This was the last ballot for perhaps two-thirds of them. Even if the Supreme Court of the United States says the Amendment is unconstitutional the Legislature will enact the Mississippi law which has run the gauntlet. Some of the negro leaders say they intend to take charge of the party in North Carolina. A white Republican forcibly expressed his view of the negro by saying, "We can't do anything more with him."

There was naturally great interest by the Simmons and Carr men as to Wake, it being the metropolitan county. Each desired more to carry it than any other county.

It would be interesting to know how many Democrats in this city voted for McKinley. The roll would be quite a long one.

After this there will be no August election. Months ago Chairman Simmons assured me that the Legislature would provide for the old plan—all in November.

It's all over but the paying.

Next to the Consumer is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

Why He Wanted to be Insulted.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"Whenever I see a regulation railway lunch counter," said a man at the Texas and Pacific depot—"I mean one of the kind with high stools and stacks of doughnuts and petrified pies under glass shades—I am reminded of a queer little incident that occurred several years ago at Texarkana.

"I was on the train coming down to New Orleans from the Northwest, and we stopped at the place to get supper. The depot was provided with such a lunch counter as I have described, and when I took posession of one of the stools I found myself next to a typical cowboy, with wide white sombrero, leather leggins, enormous spurs and a pair of big six-shooters hanging low down over his hips. A livid scar, evidently the result of a knife wound, ran from the corner of his eye to the angle of his jaw, and his whole appearance was so sinister and forbiding that I edged instinctively as far away as I could get. A few minutes later a big, coal-black negro came sauntering in and deliberately seated himself on one of the stools at the other side. The passengers who were eating exchanged glances of indignation, but he was a vicious-looking fellow and nobody cared to invite certain trouble by ordering him out. Presently the tough cowboy leaned over and tapped me on the shoulder.

"'Scuse me, stranger,' he said in a hoarse whisper; 'but will you please call me a —— liar?'

"'What!' I exclaimed in amazement.

"'I want ter git you to call me a —— liar, if y' don't mind,' he repeated, still in a whisper; 'beller it right out so as everybody kin hear!'

"'But why should I call you that?' I asked, beginning to doubt his sanity.

"'Well, I'll tell y' ' he replied earnestly, 'as soon as you do, I'll rip and cuss some, and then I'll pull out my gun and take a shot at you.

"'Take a shot at me?' said I, in alarm.

"'Yes,' said he, 'but it's all right—I'll miss you and accidentally hit the nigger; see? Go ahead now and cut loose.'

"I begged hastily to be excused. I assured him that I liked the idea, and didn't doubt his marksmanship, but I was a little nervous about firearms, and—well, I hardly know what I said, but I gulped down my coffee as quickly as I could and made a bee line for the outer air. Before the train started I encountered the cowboy on the platform. He was looking gloomy.

"'You didn't get a chance to put your little schme into execution?' I remarked inquiringly.

"'No, doggone the luck!' he replied, 'I couldn't get a single white man to insult me!' "

Statesville Landmark.

Mr. Simmons won in the senatorial primary and the result is not surprising to those well informed. He had every advantage in the contest and being a shrewd politician he used these advantages to the utmost limit. Being at the head of the Democratic State organization, he, with the hand of of a master, used that organization in his own interest. This will be denied, of course, but it is true nevertheless. The senatorial fight has been bitter and if it does not result in serious damage to the Democratic party it will be surprising.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1900.

THE DEFEAT—WHAT WILL FOLLOW.

When history devotes a few lines to the American politics of the decade just closing, it will write that the determining influence in its three presidential campaigns was the condition of business of the country, business taken in its broad sense of covering the entire economic activity of the country and not merely its commerce. We are concerned at present only with the election we are have just passed through and the preceeding one. The failure of an English banking house away back at the beginning of the decade was the initiative movcment to which William McKinley is indebted for two elections to the presidency of the United States.

Without that failure free silver would never have been brought forward as the only solvent of the causes of the desperately hard times that the county was enduring. Nothing but the wildness of the silver heresy could have wrenched asunder the Democratic party, swept its dominant wing into populism, nominated for that wing an extreme radical, and launched a campaign that absolutely terrified the business interests of the country. Without that terror there is no reason to believe that the forces which first rallied to Mr. McKinley would have done so to such an extent, and it is postively certain that they would not have done so this year. Mr. McKinley was considered a weak man in 1896. In this year his overwhelming success can only be attributed, not to love for him or his policy, but to fear of his opponent. That opponent chose, in spite of the protest of a majority of his party, to cling to the dead issue of silver, and it gave him a Waterloo. He proposed in some hazy, indefinite way, to do something. The country was afraid of that something, and that is the whole of the story. The people preferred to retain that substantial prosperity in hand, with some objectionable additions, rather than swap for a pig in a poke. Mr. Bryan ran against prosperity and could make no offer that would induce the people to make a trade. It did no good to deny the existence of that prosperity. That was as foolish as Mr. Hanna's famous denial.

To all intents and purposes there is now no Democratic party. Bryan Democracy, by two overwhelming defeats, is forever dead, even as a national opposition party. But the machinery and name of the Democratic party is in its hands and the largest per cent. of the party will cling to the name and machinery. So if there is to be a reorganization where is it to come from, from without or within? And is Bryan Democracy ready to be reformed?

Since writing the above we have read in the Charlotte Observer this morning a four column review of the party's career since 1872, in which a most masterly presentation of the subject is given, the conclusion being that all its three successes since then were due to the confidence the country had in the candidate, and its defeats to the want of such confidence. The editorial closes as follows:

Has it been annihilated? No. Is it discredited hopelessly? By no means. What then is it to? Do right—quit its foolishness. The country needs it; the country wants it. In 1896 and in 1900 the people would have entrusted it with power except that they have been afraid of it—afraid of its platform and its candidates. The result of Tuesday's election was not a triumph for McKinley and Republicanism; it was a protest against Bryan and Bryanism. It is amazing how quickly a political party can sometimes rally from defeat. In 1872 the Democratic party merged its identity and its name in the Liberal Republican party, and, along with its captor, was swept from the earth. Yet, lo! it pulled itself together, and, the very next election year, in 1876, it adopted a Democratic platform, nominated a Democrat, and elected him. By repeating now the policy then, it can repeat the triumph. But it will have to give over Populism, Socialism and the rest. If it will but return to Democratic principles and nominate for President some such a man as Governor Hill, Senator Gorman or Mr. Whitney, it can carry the election of 1904, but until it purges itself of foreign elements and gets back to the faith it will know nothing but defeat until it dies. Defeat is not disgrace; it is not to be reckoned of or accounted when a principle is at stake; but to be both wrong and beaten is unspeakable. It would be happiness to see the Democratic party shake itself free of its fetters and turn to its ancient landmarks, and have the old song put in its mouth. Then it could be said, that, having ceased their wanderings, the ransomed of the Lord had returned and come again to Zion with songs in their mouths and everlasting joy upon their heads.

A prophet is sometimes without honor save in his own country, and sometimes he doesn't have as much there as elsewhere. Mr. Carr carried his county by 2,200. Mr. Simmons carried his by 150.

No. Money, coercion, false pretenses, the lack of civic virtue defeated Hon. W. J. Bryan.—Bryan Organ.

We had thought that it was the lack of votes.

MAMMOTH REMAINS.

Reported Finding of a Skull of Great Size in San Mateo County, California.

The evidences of life belonging to the preglacial age are rare in California; still a specimen has been discovered near the coast in San Mateo county, if the statement contained in a Halfmoon bay dispatch may be relied upon. A well-preserved skull of the mammoth is said to have been recently taken out of the bed of Pilarcitos creek by some boys who were employed in hauling sand at a point about a mile east of Halfmoon bay. The skull is reported to be about five feet in length and portions of the tusks a foot long are attached to it and are six inches in diameter at the junction with the bone. These extend into the cerebral cavity. Bones of the mammoth were also found in the neighborhood some years ago.

The discovery of these remains, says the San Francisco Chronicle, is no proof that the mammoth ever wandered at large during life in these parts. The evidences are, of course, indisputable that great herds of these preglacial beasts pastured in the valley of the Yukon and on the shores of Siberia and the Behring sea. During some violent convulsion of nature great ice sheets enveloped the far north, and many of their carcasses have been preserved therein up to the present time, hides, hair, flesh, bones and tusks being found in perfect condition. Mines of mammoth ivory were profitably worked in Alaska long before the territory became a field for the search of gold. These mammoth remains have been discovered in the placers of the Klondike and at other points in the frozen banks of the Yukon and its tributaries. There would be nothing improbable in the assumption that the mammoth remains now unearthed on Pilarcitos creek near the shores of Halfmoon bay had been deposited at the point where found by a stranded ice floe brought down from the far north at some remote period by the ocean current which sweeps down the western coast of the continent.

The only evidences of the mammoth life which once inhabited the earth found anywhere in the vicinity were the footprints of the mammoth sloth which were uncovered in the Carson (Nev.) sandstone quarries. Wyoming is the most fertile field on this continent, outside of Alaska, for the fossil remains of the gigantic animals which existed here in past geological ages. The University of Wyoming has secured from the sandstones of that state the largest and most perfect and complete collection of these fossils in existence.

If any of these gigantic animals ever had their habitat in California, the changes which ice and flood and other agencies have since produced have swept away all traces of them. The Calaveras skull of prehistoric man which Bret Harte immortalized in verse belongs to the world of fiction, not of fact. Even though we are short on fossil remains, it might not require much straining of the imagination to assume that the diminutive horned toad of the southern counties is the degenerate descendant of the horned dinosaur, which ranged from 12 to 15 feet in length and whose fossil remains have been excavated from the plains of Laramie, or that the nimble lizard found everywhere in the state is the direct descendant of the gigantic saurians of the reptilian age.

HONOR TO AN INDIAN CHIEF.

Washington Officials Planning for Monument to Be Placed Over Grave of a Shoshone.

Plans are being made by officials of the Indian office in Washington for the erection of a monument upon the plot where is buried the body of the famous Chief Washakie, of the Shoshones. His grave is in a peaceful, picturesque section of the post cemetery at Fort Washakie, Wyo., which was named after the old man a long time ago.

Washakie was a sworn friend to the white people, tried always to maintain peace, is quoted in history as never permitting a white man's blood to be shed if he could prevent it, and he was esteemed by all persons with whom he came in contact, both Americans and his own people.

Washakie was born, as nearly as can be estimated, although some authorities say that he was much older, in 1796. He fought in many battles, displaying fine qualities as a warrior, and at all times treating his enemies and captives with great kindness. He was subtle and active until a few months before he died, when he became physically weak and feeble, but his mind was clear, and his last wish, which he expressed through an interpreter a day or so before he died, was that he be buried as a Christian in the Fort Washakie cemetery and have a military funeral. This wish was gladly fulfilled, for he was loved by all the officers of the post, and he was buried with the honors of a regular army officer. His remarkable oratorical ability has been commented upon by all the government officers who have visited the Wind river reservation.

Washakie was a great promoter of Christianity and education, and the present intellectuality of the Shoshones as a band is largely due to his strenuous efforts. It is said that Chief Washakie had the unique distinction of being the only Indian who ever propelled a bicycle at the age of 100 years.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. TURKISH MINISTER'S WIFE.

Difficulty in Obtaining for Her in Washington the Seclusion Orientalism Requires.

The Turkish minister to Washington finds it extremely difficult to seclude his wife as completely from public gaze as the customs of his country require. These difficulties have been greatly increased of late by the arrival at his home of a son and heir, for the curiosity to see "the little Turk" is overweening. The new baby has a wonderful wardrobe sent from Paris, the clothes in oriental designs and fabrics.

As no man may enter the apartments of a Turkish lady, madame is attended by Mrs. Jung, wife of the legation physician, who is herself a skilled doctor with diplomas from home and foreign schools.

In spite of the oriental ceremony and mystery with which "Ali Baby" is surrounded, he is being brought up, so far as essentials go, on a very American plan.

Mme. Furrough has with her her young sister-in-law, who has received with her the few times that madame has been in the legation parlor. No man, of course, attended these receptions. Mme. Furrough is a skilled horsewoman and her close confinement to the house in Washington has told upon her health.

The marriage of Ali Furrough Bey was a love match of the most ardent sort. When the minister was sent to America he left his beautiful wife in her native land, but returned as soon as possible and made the necessary arrangements for moving the household to America. To do this he was obliged to make a vow that the women folk should remain as secluded as in their Turkish home. Just how difficult that vow has been to keep any American will know.

When some people put up at a hotel they have to first plank down.

Every man has his station in ilfe. It requires a peculiar sort of talent to be even a pall-bearer.

The Telegram's Tea Table Talk

The Talker has heard for the past two days only political talk. There has been plenty of this. Even the ladies have indulged in it. And, bless their sweet souls, they are just as much divided on it as the men. One lady at her front gate waited for a passerby so that she could learn the news, and hearing that McKinley was elected, she very promptly gave a cheer. Another one believed in Bryan and was so sorry he did not get in. She said he was such a nice man and had worked so hard for several years to get elected, she thought it was real mean not to elect him. Another one was criticising the party just like a gold Democrat in trousers might do. Another was exulting over Simmons' victory, and another wept for Carr. But we venture to think that every one of them is glad it's over, more especially those who have husbands and have been compelled to either listen to their talk of politics or let them go down town at night for the past six months.

One red hot and "still a heatin'" Democrat came down town yesterday morning to see if he could find a few crumbs of satisfaction. Instead, the first man he met was one of these Democrats who smile behind their ears because Bryan was defeated. This one went on to say that it might be well after all that Bryan wasn't elected, as his election might have caused a panic. This brought the already heated man to the towering point. "The h—ll," he shouted, "don't talk to me about a panic, you fellows deserve a panic! I hope you'll have a famine in your family, a famine for four hundred years!"

And right in the midst of a discussion of politics, up stepped an educator. He took a new tack by saying that bad politics was chargable to the failure of the schools as character builders. He thought that too much time was wasted away on fads and non essentials and not enough given to good wholesome foundation for character. He said that the conscience and intelligence of the voter must be appealed to—not the intelligence alone. For character, such as the citizens of a free country must have, the foundation should be laid in the school and home.

This of course brought up the subject of education in general, and of the negro in particular. The argument against negro education was put by one of the party who told how an old gentleman way down in the east fixed it. "The biggest argument down my way against educatin' the nigger," said this old fellow, "is that every time you educate one you spile a good field han'." "And how do you answer that argument?" he was asked. "Well, when they tell me that, I say nuthin."

The "I told you so's" were out in big shape yesterday. They all expected it. They had predicted it to a figure. When the election returns had come in long enough to show that things were going McKinley's way in a whoop, some one started the report that Alaska had gone for Bryan. Some of the boys had even predicted this. Later on New Zealand was reported as solid for McKinley, and Nicaragua was said to have sent a solid Republican delegation to Congress. Some of the boys had predicted that, no longer ago than Saturday. Then word was passed along that Simmons would have at least thirty-six electoral votes, more than enough to elect, and half a dozen had predicted that he would get even thirty-five.

HE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton. of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

"Did you have any bets on the election?" asked the Simple Mug "Only one," replied the wise guy; "I bet my wife a ton of coal."

This is a great time for the I-told-you-so man.

THE ONE PRICE CASH CASH CLOTHIERS, 304 South Elm Street, Greensboro, N. C.

For Our Lady Readers

8119—Ladies' Seven Gored Skirt.
22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36 in. waist.

LADIES' SEVEN GORED SKIRT WITH FAN BACK, NO. 8119.

In the development of cloth and silk skirts there is always a demand for seven gore models. This season a pleasidg addition to these popular skirts is the fan back, which gives graceful fullness, and a fashionable sweep at the lower edge.

As illustrated, this skirt is made of periwinkle blue zibeline. It is fitted smoothly around the waist and over the hips without darts, closing in the center back. Two backward turning plaits are arranged at each side of the center closing, formiag a fan. The plaits are lapped at the belt and flatly pressed, presenting an extremely plain effect, but flare gracefully toward the bottom.

It is lined throughout with soft taffeta, and finished with New Century brush binding, which is silky in appearance and does not rub the shoes.

This skirt is especially designed for women of full proportions, to whom the long lines of the narrow gores are very becoming. The pattern is cut in sizes as high as thirty-six inch waist measure to meet this demand.

It may be made of cloth, silk or satin, and the seams outlined with stitched bands or braid.

To make the skirt in the medium size will require five and three-fourths yards of forty-four or four and five-eights yards of fifty-four inch material. The pattern, No. 8119, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34 and 36 inch waist measure.

THE TELEGRAM will receive and forward orders for all patterns described in this column. The price is only ten cents for each pattern to cover cost of mailing and handling. In ordering fill blank below and send to The Telegram office:

MISCELLANEOUS.

A HANDY HINT.

Everybody almost has their own special pet way of cleaning brass, but when it has been allowed to get very dirty, the following will be found to yield good results: Dissolve two ounces of rock ammonia in a pint of perfectly boiling water, then pour over the brass and leave for five minutes. Scrub thoroughly with a stiff brush and then rinse two or three times, first in hot and then in cold water. Dry carefully, and polish with brass paste, and you will find that your dirty brass looks like new.

FOREIGNERS' JEWELS.

It is curious to recall that the late King Humbert had the craze for jewels which is usually supposed to be the especial characteristic of women folk, and, seeing that the usages of modern society forbid mere man to bedeck himself unduly beyond the realms of Eastern barbaric magnificence, the King let his taste have sway in filling Queen Margherita's jewel cases, and it is said the poor widowed Queen possesses the most representative show of jewels that any European sovereign can show. The table d'hote at a fashionable French watering place instances, by the way, how comparatively moderate Americans are in this gentle art of adornment. Every woman and girl of continental or transatlantic nationality seems to glitter at all points with gems. They all, without exception, wear diamond or pearl ear-rings—quite large now, some are; their hands are covered with rings and three or four bangles on each wrist are the merest ordinary allowance, while chains hung with charms, brooches in half dozens and jeweled chatelains or chain purses jangle at every step of of these expensively-equipped persons.

CROSS-STITCHING.

A flannel shirt-waist of St. Andrew's green is profusely decorated with regular rows and groups of embroidery in cross-stitch. The front of the bodice has a middle box-pleat, and on each side a group of three tucks is vertically applied. Each of the tucks is finished with a single row of cross-stitch in deepest moss-green worsted, English crewels. The middle box-pleat is marked off into six divisions by as many buttons, which are small, flat and gilt. Between the buttons are arranged groups of cross-stitching, three abreast. These are intermitted in a line with each button. The back of the shirt-waist is laid in fine tucks; each has its single line of cross-stitch in crewel. The sleeves has the lower part laid in tucks, ornamented with cross-stitch, and a small turn-over cuff at the wrist is covered with cross-stitching.

DON'T SEED YOUR GRAPES.

It is well to know that the practice of seeding grapes before swallowing, as usually practiced by means of the front teeth, is certain to prove an injury thereto. A woman who tried a grape cure this summer has shown me the state of her teeth wrought by the acids of the lining of the fruit; the enamel is etched off in a most distressing way.

Both makers and circulators of counterfeits commit fraud. Honest men will not deceive you into buying worthless counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The original is infallible for curing piles, sores, eczema and all skin diseases. Howard Gardner.

Do you eat crow?

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best liver pills ever made. Easy to take and never gripe. Howard Gardner.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help: but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

Some people think that if they lose an election bet the country is going to to the damnation bow-wows.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The autumn bride this year has been completely overshadowed by politics. She thinks its real mean.

You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cough or cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. One Minute Cough Cure will cure throat and lung troubles quicker than any other preparation known. Many doctors use it as a specific for grippe. It is an infallible remedy for croup. Children like it and mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

When a wife does her own cooking it takes a man with a good liver to love her with a whole heart.

If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup you can realize how grateful mothers are for One Minute ute Cough Cure which gives relief as soon as it is administered. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all throat and ung troubles.

This is what the Montgomery Journal of September 4th, says:

"The second performance of the Una Clayton Company was in the 'Midnight Masquerade.' The play is a strong drama, enlivened by many comedy touches.

"The company scored another hit. It is evident that the members comprising it have been carefully selected and their presentation of the plays would do credit to many high-price organizations on the road. Miss Clayton was seen in the role of 'Poppy.' She made it a charming soubrette part. Mr. Morey, as Alvany, was a handsome and self-possesed villa'n. The presentation of the character was excellent.

"The Hewlitts gave a laughable Chinese skirt, 'Fun on a Clothes Line.' The audience was most appreciative of the fun of the thing and they were enchored several times. The Ladies' Orchestra continues to be a most attractive feature of the performances. Miss Mabel Kaine last night rendered a different solo on the clarionet. It was excellently done.

Notices of New Advertisements.

We are not in business simply to keep our name before the public, nor for fame, but for what we can make out of it, fairly and by honest dealings. Pure and fresh goods—Howard Gardner.
